EASTERN GOLDFIELDS HISTORICAL SOCIETY INC

Publishing Grant Guidelines and Application

The Eastern Goldfields Historical Society Inc. (EGHS) invites applications for publishing grants of up to $1,000 to assist with the printing and publication of books that present significant new research on Goldfields heritage.

Eligibility and Focus

EGHS welcomes manuscripts and proposals that demonstrate a strong, original focus on the Eastern Goldfields region. Projects should contribute meaningfully to the understanding or preservation of the area's history and culture.

Submission Requirements

Applicants must forward their complete manuscript as a single Word or PDF file.
The manuscript should include:

- A Table of Contents
- Optional visual materials (e.g., diagrams, photographs, or illustrations)

Assessment Process

- All submissions will be acknowledged upon receipt.
- Each application will be reviewed by EGHS committee.
- Applicants whose submissions generate further interest will be contacted directly.
- Others will receive an email advising that their manuscript was not selected for this grant round.

We appreciate every submission and thank all applicants for the opportunity to review their work.

Successful Applicants

Recipients of EGHS publishing grants are required to acknowledge the Eastern Goldfields Historical Societies financial support in the printed publication.
